The majority Republican caucus made a formal announcement on Tuesday tapping Senator Matt Huffman from Lima as the next Senate President, beginning in January. Additionally, Senator Jay Hottinger of Newark will serve as president pro-tempore; Senator Kirk Schuring of Canton will be majority floor leader and Senator Rob McColley of Napoleon was named as majority whip. At this time, Senate Democrats have not set a date for their caucus election. The House GOP is set to have an informal meeting on Wednesday to vote on the next speaker.

COVID-19 Cases Surge in Third Wave

COVID cases have dramatically increased in Ohio, prompting the Governor to address the state outside of his normally scheduled Tuesday and Thursday press conferences. After highlighting the possibility of a vaccine from Pfizer becoming available as early as mid-December, Governor Mike DeWine went on to announce new mask regulations for retailers, and that he would be releasing an additional order with new limits on activities. The governor announced that the status of cars, restaurants, and fitness centers will be reevaluated late next week to determine if closures are necessary.

School Funding Proposal Debated

On Tuesday, the House Finance Committee accepted a substitute version of HB 305, which overhauls Ohio's K-12 education funding system. Committee members raised questions as to whether or not the plan addresses the school districts in the state with the fewest financial resources.

Senate Begins Informal Review of HB6 Repeal Bill

In the Senate Energy and Public Utilities Committee, Representative Mark Romanchuk presented an informal hearing of HB 772, a proposal to repeal portions of HB 6. This was followed by the third hearing of SB 346, another proposal with an aim of repealing HB6 in its entirety.
