Dr. Amy Acton Announces Resignation

Yesterday, Dr. Amy Acton, Director of the Ohio Department of Health, announced that she was resigning from her position effective immediately. Dr. Acton, who was appointed as the director in February 2019, cited personal reasons, such as the long hours required being unsustainable, as the leading factor in her decision to leave. Additionally, she found the level of criticism as an unelected official difficult to bear but was clear that was not her main reason for leaving. Governor DeWine has asked Dr. Acton to stay on as his Chief Health Advisor. In this role she will continue to focus on the COVID-19 pandemic, and work to address other health issues facing Ohioans. Lance Himes, effective immediately, will serve as the Interim Director of Health.
